What is Socio-Zombie?

Socio-Zombie is a dark comedy cartoon series that features a little immortal zombie girl named Cloe who also happens to have sociopathic tendency and has a habit of murdering people just for the sheer fun of it.

Cloe justifies her killings due to her resurrected by her mother when she died over 200 years ago. what she truely wants is to pass on into the afterlife and yet that seems impossible. So there's very little to stop Cloe from her killing sprees.

The story goes that during the early 1800's there was a manor in the north of England by the cliff side which was called Crestview Manor. One unfaithfull night, Thrya finds her daughter to be dead at a bottom of the cliff. The cause of death was unknown but it was believed that the child was playing too close by the cliff with some other children and it just so happens that a little girl falls off the cliff. Desperately, Thrya manages to summon a demon in which allows them to resurrect the little girl and brings her back to life. The little girls name was Cloe Fawkes.

Context

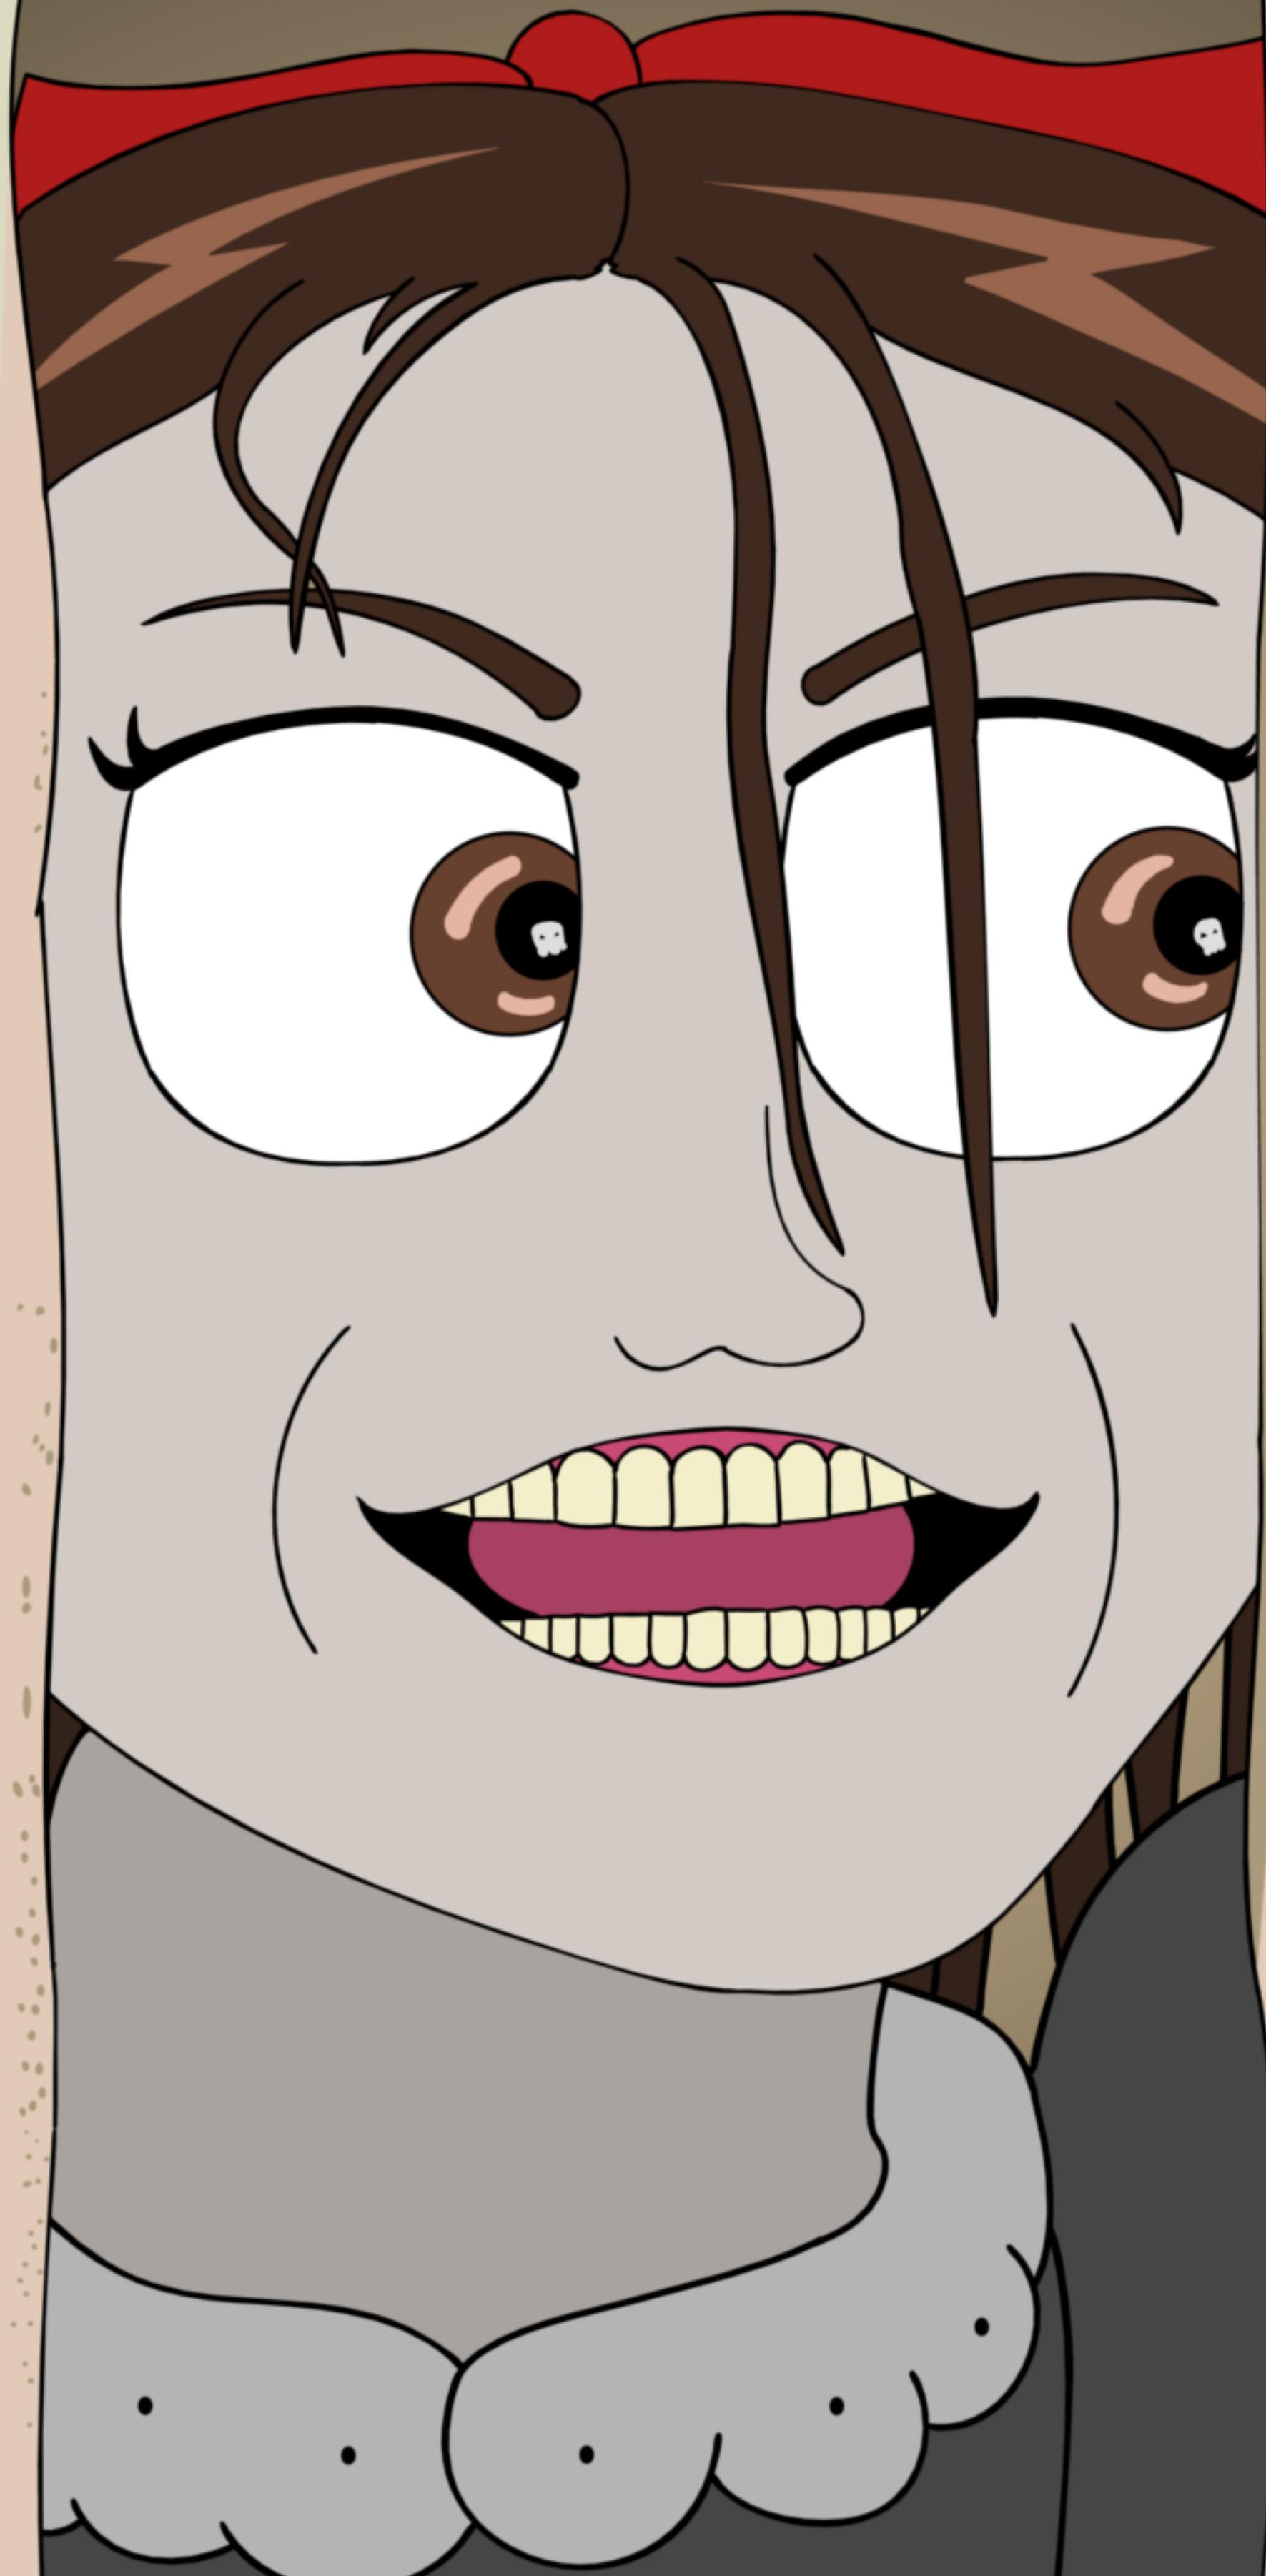

Socio-Zombie is inspired by horror movies as well as other cartoon shows such as Saw, Friday the 13th, Rick & Morty and The Simpsons. With a combination of cartoon comedy and true horror there is a unique series that can feel brand new and fresh towards the audiences.

The perspective of Socio-Zombie is that it is a reversed slasher where we see things from the killer rather than the victims. By the end of each episode we learn something new about Cloe.

There's also a sense of mystery within the world of Socio-Zombie. How did a little zombie girl came to be? How does society cope with a little zombie girl who also happens to be a vicious killer? The sense of mystery leaves with the viewers wanting to learn more.

This pitch aims to pitch a 10 episodic mini series where each episode ranges from 6 to 10 minutes each in length. And there's also potential for a second series if the first season does well enough.

SOCIO-ZOMBIE

Cloe Fawkes

Cloe Fawkes is a sociopathic immortal zombie killer who has no sympathy for others. She likes to kill people purely for the fun of it and dig up dead bodies. She justifies her actions by blaming the curse that made her immortal in the first place.

Despite being a living zombie for over two hundred years, Cloe is nine years old. She is unable to age due to the curse of being revived.

She is also a master manipulator and can be very persuasive. She may also attempt to look innocent towards those who are unsuspicious in order to trick or mislead them.

Cloe also has a wicked sense of humour and almost never takes anything too seriously. She often jokes around even after taking away innocent lives.

Vicky Oake

Vicky is a little ghost girl who also happens to be Cloe's best friend. She's equally pyschotic as Cloe however she's a little more cunning and smarter than Cloe. Not always sharing the same sense of humour as Cloe, she also has desires to kill and even watch the world burn. Why does she want to the world to burn? She's unable to pass on into the afterlife and she doesn't know why. Frustrated and angry, she takes her revenge on anybody and anything else.

How Vicky became a ghost is unkown as she has seem to have suffered from amnesia. This is possibly due to some sort of curse that is stopping her from passing on into the afterlife.

Cloe and Vicky are close freinds due to have simmilar personalities and motives. They have been very close friends for a very long time.

Supporting Characters

Thrine Lansberg

Thrine is a little zombie boy who usually is manipulated by Cloe. Typically she manipulates him by using a voodoo doll of him. Thrine doesn't feel any pain except when Cloe sticks needles into a voodoo doll. That way, Cloe has ways of getting Thrine to do what she wants.

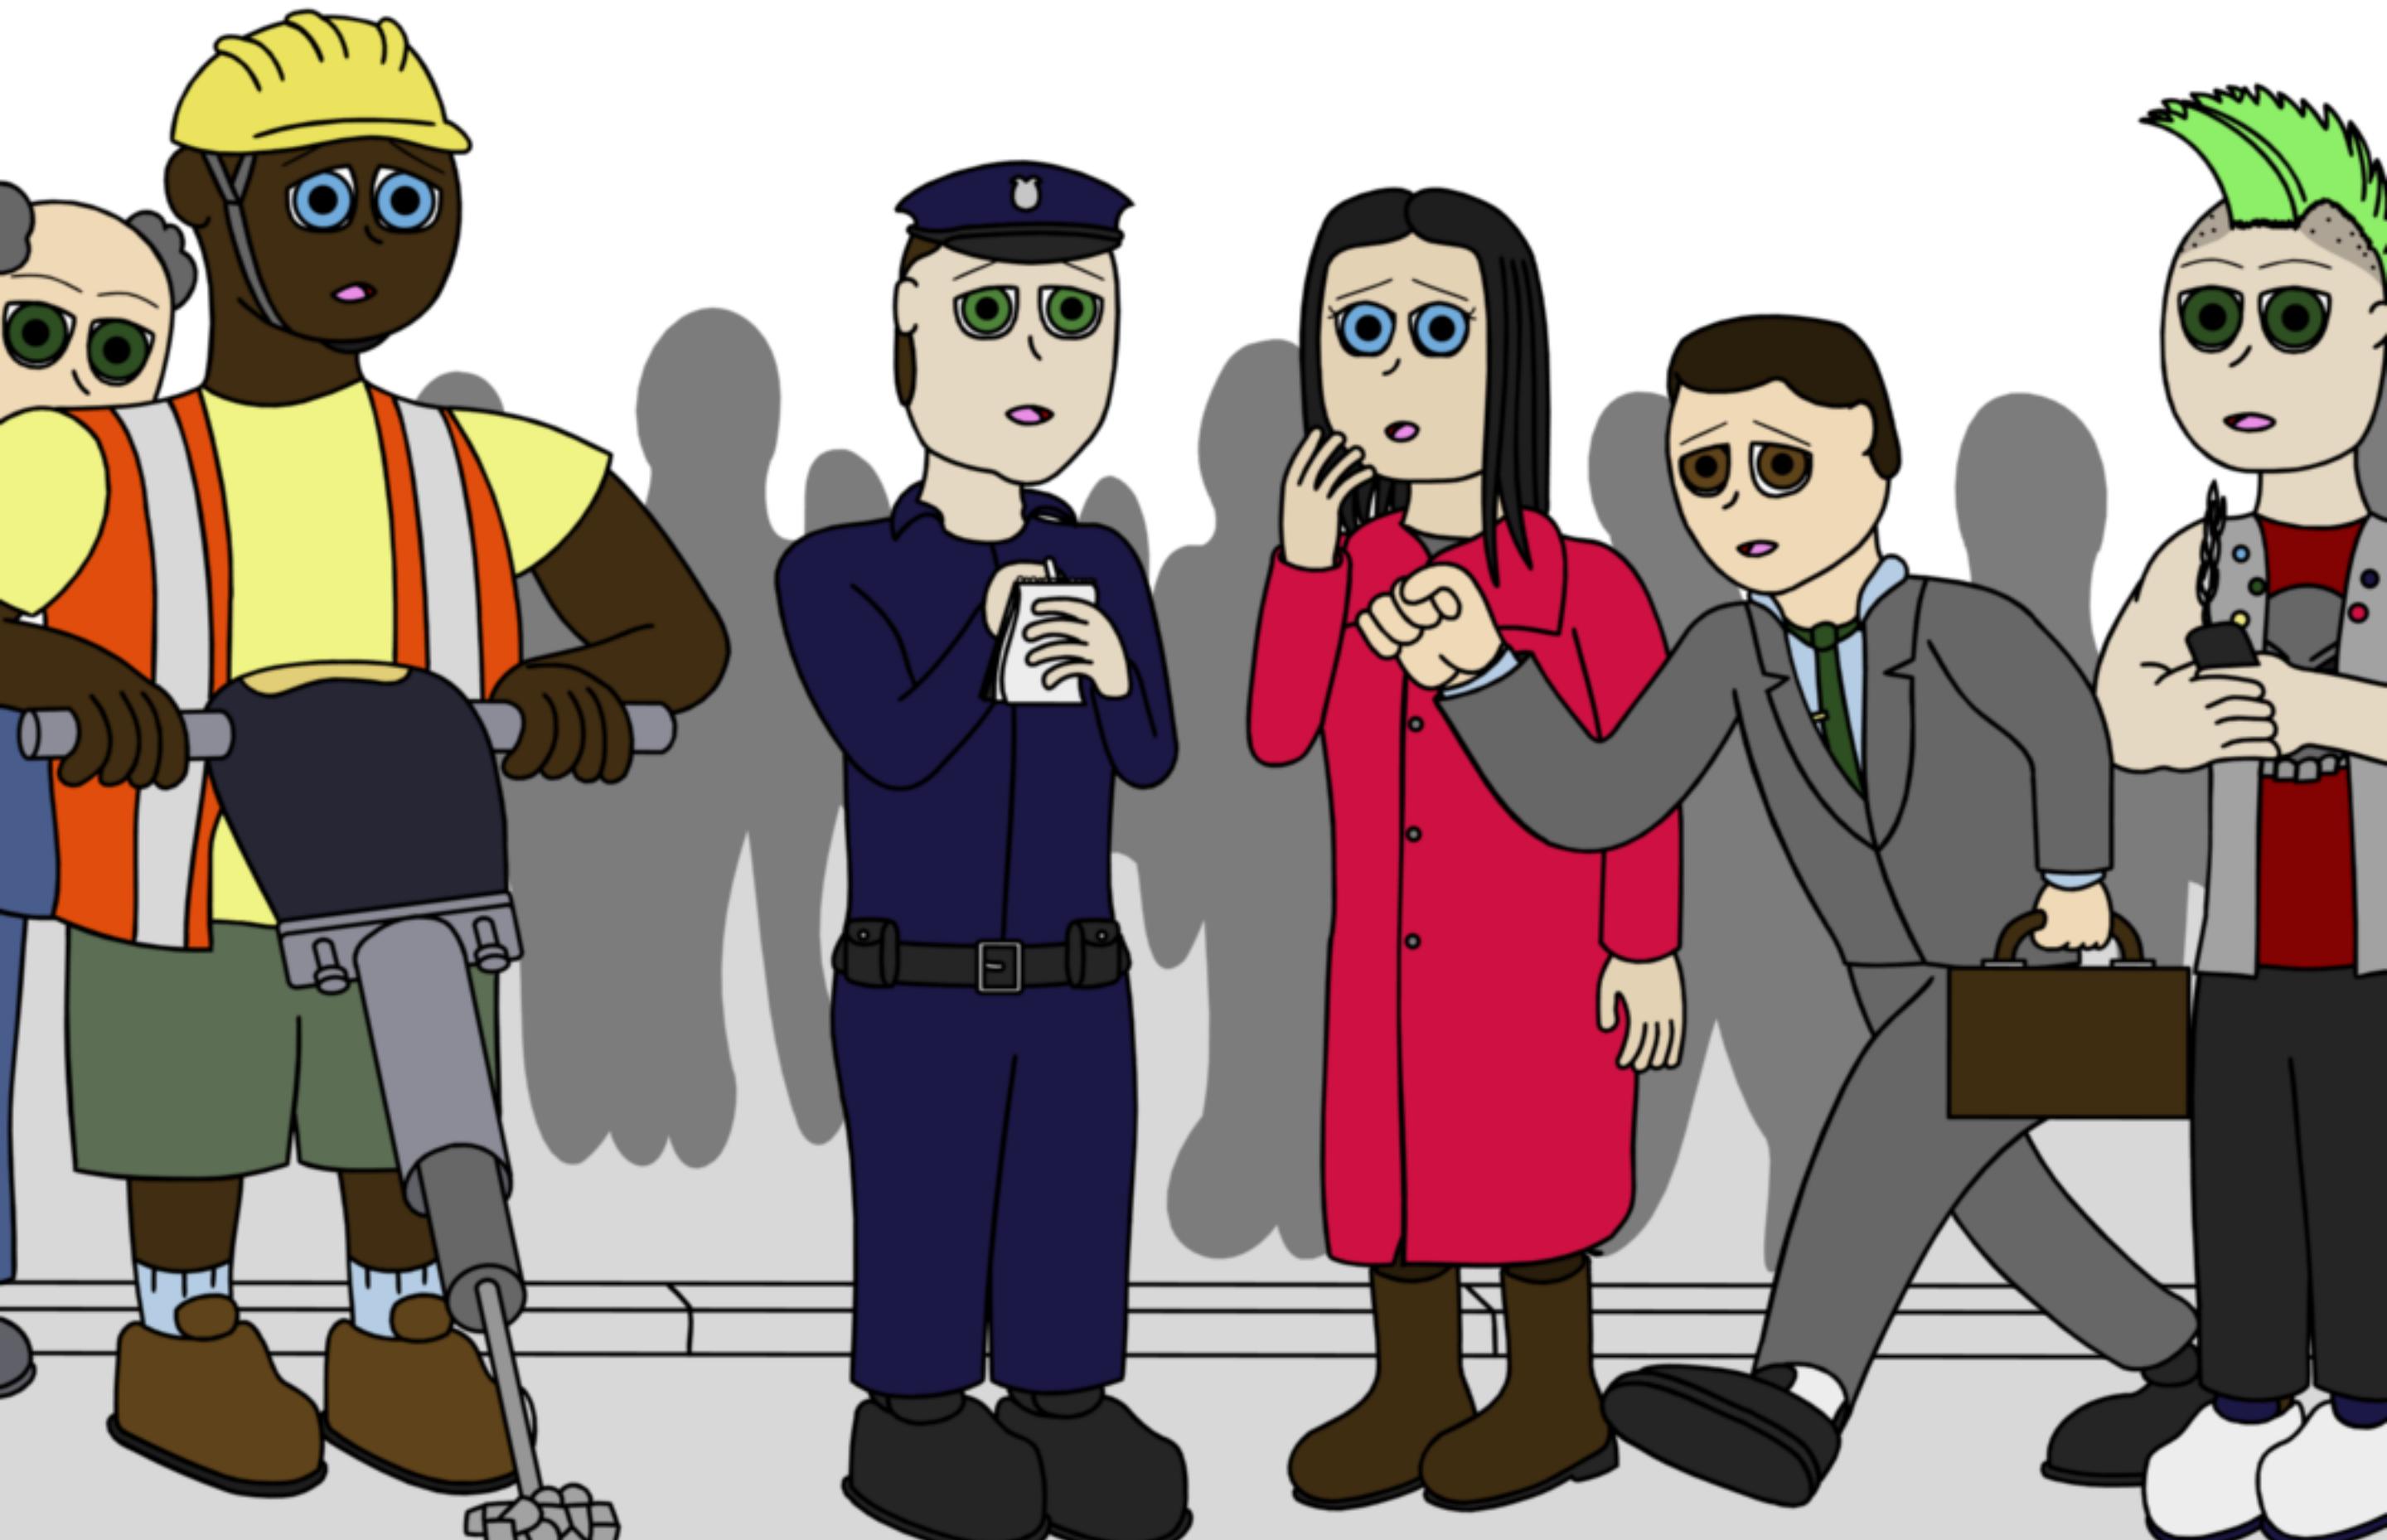

Detective Ackerley

Detective Ackerley is on a hunt to stop Cloe and her criminal ways by trying to step a head of her. He is determined and unafraid and yet he is well aware of the risks of chasing down a immortal serial killer.

Unsuspecting Victims

Anyone and everyone is vulnerable to Cloe's plans of death and destruction. Whether it's a police officers, business people, party goers, hipsters, gangsters, nobody is safe! If you see her or any of her friends you're best bet is to run for the hills.
